Defense of the Administration
Mr. Speaker: A life long Democrat of the Jackson school and [illegible] a distinguished Congressman from the State of Indiana recently delivered a speech in Indianapolis in defense of the Union and the Lincoln Administration and in opposition to the position which Voorhees and Vallandigham are endeavoring to give the Democratic party, from which we take the following paragraphs:

Political parties always become extinct when their principles are [illegible] party organization is kept up in time of war by the wish of [illegible] opposition [illegible] directly unconstitutional [illegible] I oppose them because I will not [illegible] myself in opposition to my Country in time of war. I find that many fellow Democrats were illogical in their opposition to the Administration. I differ from them in their premises. They assume that the Administration is attempting to subvert by the war the Government of our fathers. And they act as if they complacently that they are in favor of furnishing money for the war. If this was the case, I would organize an armed opposition to the Government. I would not submit to any organized treason here. I would as soon support the treason of Jeff. Davis as the treason of any other traitor. I have great respect for the [illegible] who fight openly against the Government. None for sublime cowards who undertake to direct the war by opposition to the Government. I viewed with deep sorrow the progress of this matter. I knew that oceans of blood must be shed before the Union could be broken up. I expected to see the battle field here, and the last hamlet in Indiana in flames. But this did not take place, because the people of Indiana answered the traitors among them.

The men to whom I refer were the original Breckinridge men. The first blow of the traitors was the attempt to break up the Democratic party. Those who broke up the Charleston Convention and followed Yancey, did it to break up the party—as a threat of disunion. I regarded the nomination of Breckinridge as a disunion movement. For the Breckinridge men who have repented and are now loyal, I have no word of reproach. I have nothing to say of Judge Hughes but the highest commendation. But I have no respect for the Douglas men who now support the regular [illegible]. At the time Hughes left the Breckinridge party, Voorhees went in. I knew Voorhees as a Whig. I have no personal issues to make with him. But his political principles I deal with as I would any other public property. [illegible] A voice—"Would you confiscate them?" Yes, by the Lord I would confiscate them if I could. [Loud laughter.] Breckinridge was a traitor long before he was nominated. He returned to the Senate after it was known that treason was achieved. He arraigned the President because he defended the capital of the nation on the ground that he had no legal power to call out men for [illegible] defense. Many of the Democrats of Indiana cried out "Union! Shame on such men!" I defended Jackson for calling at the mountain men of Tennessee against the orders of the Secretary of War and the Governor of Tennessee. Can I turn back on that record and refuse to defend Mr. Lincoln? If Jackson had been in Baltimore, that bridge burner Merriman would have had no chance for a writ of habeas corpus. He would have hung him as high as Haman at once. My doctrine is "War to the knife, and knife to the hilt!" But these old Democrats are alarmed at martial law as if it never was declared before in this country. The "Democratic Address," signed by some men who never were Democrats, and not signed by those who never have [illegible] anything else, falsifies facts when it states that martial law has never suspended the habeas corpus before in this country. It was suspended in New Orleans in 1815 at Jackson's Head Quarters and at other places. I have said that those who find not been Democrats long [illegible] signed that address. No wonder they made such mistakes.

The Port Townsend Imbroglio

From the late numbers of the Sound papers we learn that the difficulties relative to the seizure of the Custom House at Port Townsend is not yet settled and that Victor Smith still remains on board the steamer Shubrick in possession of the books and valuable papers and money of the Custom House for that District. Gov. Pickering and U. S. Commissioner Metcalf had each left Port Townsend where proper legal proceedings were had before the United States Commissioner and a warrant issued demanding the person of Victor Smith and Lieut. Wilson commander of the Shubrick before the Commissioner to answer complaint filed by a number of respectable citizens of that place. The warrant was placed in the hands of the U. S. Marshal, who immediately proceeded on board the Shubrick in search of the person of Smith but was resisted by the officers of the Custom House in executing his order. Lieut. Wilson refused to allow the Marshal to go forward of the cabin of the steamer to see Victor Smith and also refused to obey the summons he held for his arrest alleging that the summons was not made out in legal form as it was directed against him as commander of the steamer Shubrick engaged in the revenue service when the Shubrick was the special mail steamer of the Sound and could not be detained under such warrant. The Marshal returned to the shore but before further proceedings could be had in the case, the Shubrick weighed anchor and struck out for Victoria where she was lying at last accounts, apparently afraid to return for fear of arrest. Smith who claims in addition to several other important positions to be Special Mail Agent for the Sound, and as such has given the mails in charge of the Eliza Anderson, which vessel now runs on the Sound, while Victor Smith and the Shubrick remain in a foreign port. The Marshal had started in pursuit of the Shubrick to Victoria, but whether he will be able to effect anything remains to be heard.

The Victoria Press in commenting upon this affair, says

"The cause of the attempted arrest of Lieut Wilson and Collector Smith, at Port Townsend, on Tuesday as stated to be a warrant issued by the U. S. Commissioner, on complaint of six prominent citizens of the town, charging them with assault with intent to kill, in loading the guns of the Shubrick, clearing the decks for action and threatening to bombard the town, on the day that Lieut Merryman refused to give up the Custom House books to Smith. The U. S. Marshal (who is in town) claims to have placed his hand on Lieut Wilson's shoulder and made the arrest but the only notice that the Lieutenant seems to have taken of the officer was to order him ashore with his below, and start the Cutter. As the crowd on the wharf we are assured that it was composed of the best men in the place, and that no violence would have resulted to Smith at their hands had he come ashore. But the Cutter folk think differently. The Victorian in its last issue, openly threatens the secession of the Territory from the United States if the demand of the citizens of Port Townsend with regard to the Custom House and the Collector is not acquiesced in by the Home Government. The editor professes to be an unqualified Union man.

We hope, for the sake of the reputation and honor of our neighbor Territory that this matter may soon be amicably and properly settled, and that law and order will again assume its accustomed rule."

A Suggestion

We have often had to chronicle riots and outrages in towns where there are garrisons on this coast. These usually if not always arise from the sale of liquors to soldiers in those towns. It seems that liquor shops are got up in towns in the vicinity of garrisons for the special purpose of inducing soldiers, selling them liquor making them drunk getting their money—the end of which is likely to be quarrels outrages disgraceful to soldiers and citizens and deeply mortifying and vexatious to officers in command.

It cannot be the desire of good citizens or good legislators to sanction state of things contains. Much can be done to arrest the evils complained of by proper legislative enactments. Let State and Territorial laws be enacted imposing first and twenty hundred dollars for the first offense selling liquor to soldiers doubling the amount for every return of the offense within twelve months after the first conviction—and the evil will be stayed.

The instant report of arms caused by the sale of liquor in towns where there are garrisons not only injures the character of the town and the interior property but is a serious injury to the public peace.

The Legislatures of Oregon and Washington are both in session and we respectfully ask the attention of those bodies to the subject.

The Bulletin says the Custom House at Port Townsend is not yet settled and that Victor Smith still remains on board the steamer Shubrick in possession of the books and valuable papers and money of the Custom House for that District. From Caribou

A terrible murder was committed by parties unknown on the night of the 29th of July on the Quesnelle River, on Saturday the 26th of July to which the corpses of the citizens of that place named Chas. Kaufher & Edwin and David Sokolsky were instantly killed and robbed of a large amount of gold dust and valuable articles. A meeting was held by the citizens of the place and a reward of $1000 offered for the detection and apprehension of the murderers and the Colonial authorities of British Columbia called upon to assist in bringing the guilty parties to justice. It is supposed that they have left for San Francisco in the Star.

In speaking of this horrible affair the Victoria Gazette of August 4th says

The deed plainly intelligent throughout was discovered by the Dalles men on the beginning of operations on Keithley Creek. The Government was notified and Lieut. Mayne and a small force of British Columbia Police were dispatched that it arrives now what further shall be authority.

With such information the murderers and the stuff of untold treasures in the claim will, whenever arrested at last, be found as much as it is fitted with another illustration of perfect police and property and with the facilities which during the last month have enabled the country authorities to cope with the outlaw command now expect that within the coming season other murders, robbery and crime of outrageous character will have been committed and the offenders brought to justice. At present eighteen hundred of these valuable men are at large. Of the wealth taken out of the creeks I could say literally eight hundred will manage to take out a hundred dollars each. Practically eight hundred will manage to take out a hundred dollars each. In all events between these and from the usual men to exist like the human race we expect out of this number a proportion of men murdered desperate enough want of fear and opportunity to defy laws which limit Lynch every well against society? Most fortunate sudden excesses have ships want, will all feel the weakness of the natural abuse that may exist in such remote the most favorable [illegible] stance but we must reflect that the men in the British Columbia gold mines the property are not all good moral material. There are gangs and gangs of hunters. Traditions who have made the Pacific Coast the scene of their villainous pursuits in the last twelve years. Government was well apprised of the fatal tragedy. Hyde with the cutter which the murderers were taken through society of previous villainy, most generally and the least they surely will have done will have [illegible] have had in pursuit to the mainland of the Fraser. The only semblance of authority in British Columbia is the indication that the [illegible] mismanage and neglect. If any other purpose the Government seems to be dead to it. Within the last four weeks there men have been murdered in British Columbia and one seriously wounded as we have said we are but at the beginning of the troubles which the season will produce but the Government see it that steps are immediately taken to put life and property in the neighboring Colonies more secure and substantial basis.

Emigrants continue to arrive in Nevada Territory but not so many as expected. The largest emigration seems to be going to Oregon and Washington Territory, attracted by the stories of rich diggings.—Appeal

It is stated that Sir Joseph Paxton is about to construct at Passy, near Paris for the Emperor Napoleon a new Crystal Palace of such dimensions that that of Sydenham would sink into insignificance if placed beside it.

WAITING FOR A RESULT.—It is stated that by orders of the War Department no despatches from the Gulf coast will be allowed to be transmitted over the telegraph wires until after the impending battle at Richmond.

Preparations are making for a World's Horse Fair to be held at Chicago in September.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, and at Charles Bancroft's, Front street.

AN EAVESDROPPER.—There is no more despicable, low-bred, contemptible creature in human shape than an eavesdropper, or an individual who will hang around certain places to hear what may be said and then go and report the same, with an addition or half a dozen lies at least, to other parties whom he may have heard mentioned during the conversation. Now, we suspicion that just such a creature occasionally visits our sanctum or dogs us around on the street corners, for no other purpose than to hear and report to certain other parties with whom he believes we bear no affinity, hoping to receive the patronage and kind regards of those parties for this most contemptible service. We are unable to find language sufficiently strong to express our utter contempt for such a low bred creature, and unless we are much mistaken the parties to whom he is lending this willing service entertain a similar contempt.

ABSCONDED.—A couple of cultus individuals, known as Wilcox and Merker, alias, "Cariboo Bill," suddenly left Portland for Portland's good, Monday last on board the W. L. Richardson for Victoria. We have heard of no reward being offered for their apprehension and return, but presume that all who know them are glad they are gone. It is said that Merker carried away a valuable gold watch which was not his property. Look out for them at Victoria.

CHINOOK CADETS.—The "Chinook Cadets" arrived last evening from an excursion of a fortnight down the coast. The trip must have been a pleasant one, judging from their fine appearance. We learn that they gave several exhibitions to the people down there, in which all the exercises of their peculiar drill with unusual grace and agility.

THE COMET!—Another comet has been visible in the North-western portion of the heavens for the last three or four evenings. It is quite dim, requiring close observation to perceive it and doubtless has escaped the observation of many, as we have heard it but little talked about. It appears to be about thirty or forty feet West of the North Star, more or less.

SENE.—The horse-power ferry boat, used in conveying the Willamette at this place, sunk one day night last at the upper ferry landing, caused by the tide coming in much higher than anticipated, and the boat not being sufficiently secured for such a contingency.

NOTHING LATER.—The boats from the Cascades brought nothing later of importance from the mines, and but few passengers and no gold dust.

FROM OLYMPIA.—We received last evening some interesting items from a friend at Olympia, which we will give in detail to-morrow—being too late for this issue.

RETURNED.—We learn that most of the excursionists who visited the Chatsop Beach this week, have returned, all in excellent spirits and much improved in health.

CARPETS, &c.—Our friend H. J. M. Troutt has a fine assortment of excellent carpets, paper hangings, window shades, &c., &c., at his Eagle Carpet Store, Front street, which he sells at very reasonable prices, and we know there is no more accommodating or genteel city dealer in the city. Give him a call. No trouble for showing goods.

GOLD DUST.—Messrs. Mussman & Co. purchased a large lot of gold dust yesterday, and we are confident that they pay as high a price as can be obtained at any place in Portland. From recent indications we are still further satisfied that this Express is fast gaining notoriety and must soon transact a very large business between this and the mines. May success attend them.

THANKS.—To Capt. Fleming, of the steamer Eliza Anderson, of Puget Sound, for late Victoria and British Columbia papers. These favors are very valuable to us, and we appreciate the kindness of the Captain in thus favoring us.

"OBSERVER."—A young and interesting "Reporter," (so called) is respectfully advised to turn his attention more to the services of Church, than to the "young and lovely," as it would improve his mind and more profitably employ his idle time.

The City Collector's notice in appropriate column.

Prosperity spoils the temper of sour people as the sunshine turns wine into vinegar.

WILLAMETTES No. 1.—Drill this evening at 7½ o'clock. By order of the Foreman,
RICH'D B. KNAPP, Sec'y.
Portland, August 29th, 1862.

Howell's Pulmonary Syrup is the Greatest Remedy of the Age, for all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, &c., &c. It is agreeable to the taste, soothing to the lungs, strengthening, safe, simple and effectual far beyond any other preparation. REDINGTON & CO.,
Exclusive Agents,

☞ The attention of the community is respectfully solicited to the New Goods received by the last steamer—embracing a full line of Ladies' Silk Mantillas, French Bonnets, Florals, new style Hats, Chantilly Poplins, and Delaines, together with a full assortment of Gents New Style Shirts Over-coats, Fancy Socks, Broadway Styles of Dress Suits, and the very latest fashion of Parisian and New York Fancy summer Panama Braid and Light Summer Hats. All the above are now ready for sale, and can be seen at Harkers' New Building on First street, in the rear of Commercial Wharf.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are causes of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. Sold everywhere.

SEWING MACHINES ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION AND Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE
SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order, should make a firm lock stitch alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use either cotton, thread, or silk direct from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with regularity and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, so both the under and upper threads will work uniformly, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is also chiefly necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, full, run and gather, and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, alone or both in combination with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to loosen off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed, no others are of constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to all the operation's disease.

It should not run a ridge or [illegible] under side, or ravel.

The undersigned are [illegible] for the general superintendence of those machines, and for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

Our True Wealth.

Within the limits of this State, and along the tributaries of the Columbia in the Territory adjacent, there have been discovered rich deposits of auriferous wealth. We have rejoiced in undue measure over the acceleration that these mines would give to the increased settlement and prosperity of our State. To be sure these mines have already called hither thousands of miners in search of these deposits, but they "come like shadows, so depart." They take the rich mineral from the bosom of the earth, leave just enough to pay for the food they consume and the clothing they wear, and then hasten away with the balance of their spoil. They add to our population, but not permanently. They help to discover those resources of the country which are but transient. And when they have gone hence, the country is but impoverished by their visit.

Within the limits of this State we have the richest of soils, watered by innumerable streams, and susceptible of the highest states of cultivation. These natural resources have demanded a far different class of men and promise far better and more lasting results. The wealth they yield, if properly obtained, not only fully requites the laborer for his task, but also leaves the State richer because it has been obtained. And those who come and obtain the wealth from these mines are not, and of necessity can not, be transient in their stay. The claims they have, if properly worked, will never cease to yield their wealth, but each year will find them more lavish in their yields than the preceding one. Nor is the country impoverished by those who develop these our true sources of natural wealth. For, promising sure and increasing wealth to those who develop them, they fasten here a population who are stable in their character; and who, while laboring to enhance their own wealth and comfort, will, at the same time be laboring to advance the wealth and prosperity of the whole State. The true and greatest wealth of our State is in its luxuriant soils and its abundant harvests, and happy will be the day when those who possess these enduring claims, will, for good, forsake their search for wealth in other fields and will, with contented minds and strong arms, develop those resources which will benefit themselves, their children and the State.

The Cactus.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 23d, 1862.

EDITOR:—To those of your lady readers who have a penchant for cultivating the prickly pear and such like species of the cactus family, it may prove interesting to learn something of its growth, aspirations, and habits in Lower California. By the by, I never could divine the object of cultivating as a home plant, a genus of such grotesque shapes; but as I suppose it is on the admitted principle of extreme delight to meet in matrimony, and why not in flower pots and posy gardens?

In New England, the prickly pear (cactus opuntia) seldom attains the hight of three feet, and I am not aware that it ever flowers or yields fruit. No such mockery of object on stature here. It has a trunk near the ground as large as a man's body, and attains a hight equal to that of the eves of a common sized Vermont barn or byre. Think of a lady cultivating a plant that would require a flower pot of the dimensions of a hogshead, and a stand made of 8x10 timber to support it. Bah! The idea is ridiculous.

Here, it is cultivated mainly for fencing purposes. Planted and guarded, it soon protects gardens, and orchards, and fields, and becomes a fence that Beelzebub himself on horseback could not break through. Armed with innumerable spires, horses and cattle, and even swine, would as soon undertake to attack an army of mounted hedge hogs as a cactus fence.

The species and varieties are very numerous, amounting in all to several hundred. They are natives of North and South America as well as nearly all the West India Islands. This family of succulent plants is remarkable for its tenacity of life—so great in some varieties that they retain vitality for years in a hot, dry atmosphere, without receiving a particle of moisture except that absorbed from the atmosphere. This tenacity of life is owing to their peculiar structure which allows them to them to exhale moisture but very slowly, for they have no proper leaves!

The flowers are of a scarlet or crimson, (some, however, are yellow,) and strongly resemble in appearance our garden poppy. It produces a purplish edible fruit. The natives (Indians) subsist on this fruit in its season. It thrives in a dry soil, and seems intended by Providence (mark the Creator's care for man) to grow on the most barren wastes and afford both food and drink to the traveler. It is a fleshy, succulent plant and yields from an incision, a generous supply of excellent water to allay thirst.

At the San Gabriel mission, near here, is a large orange and lemon orchard, the trees of which are as large as those in an old New England apple orchard, which is surrounded by a cactus fence, which—so runs my authority—was planted by the old Spanish Jesuits in the latter part of the 17th century. On passing it recently, we found it to be in an excellent state of self-preservation. S. B. ROCKWELL.

FLOURING MILLS. The flood of last winter destroyed many mills. This has concentrated the flouring business and caused mill owners to increase the capacity of their mills. While doing this, many little improvements have been added, which are clearly perceptible in the quality of flour brought to market.

WHO INTERFERED WITH THE NEGROES.—An army correspondent writes from North Carolina:

But a short time ago, a scouting party from our lines visited a negro cabin on the road toward Swansboro, and there found a considerable number of negroes whose master, it appeared, had fled when Newbern was taken, and had since joined the Confederate army. The negroes were recommended to proceed with the farm labors, planting the land and doing pretty much as if their master was at home. They did as directed, and the house not being far from our outpost they were in a measure protected by our scouting parties. It was then hoped that the master would return and take confidence in the Federal cause. But he chose to do just the contrary. Still the negroes remained on the plantation, save those whom the rebels managed occasionally to steal away, and there was a prospect of a fine harvest to come. But this was not in accordance with the rebel idea of "letting alone," so they visited the place, in considerable force, a few nights since, and took away all the property they could transport, including several negroes who did not manage to escape before they arrived. They secured the woods for the remainder of the servants, but could not find more than one third of those who had been on the plantation. The remainder, very naturally, came to Newbern as soon as possible. The property that could not be taken away the rebels destroyed, only being prevented from a wholesale onslaught on the fields by the momentary expectation of the arrival of Federal soldiers to interfere. It is to be expected that this will be reported as another instance where the Yankees have untied or stolen away their negro slaves.

Address,

Of all diseases, the Best great CURE.
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Stricture, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, Bubo, Ulcerations of the Kidneys and Bladder, Abnormal Rheumatism, Scrofula, Tumors on the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Fits or St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a deranged state of the sexual organs, such as Nervousness, Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Blotches or Moles with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities, and all painful or disorderly discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than supernatural cures can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without nauseating or objectionable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or any poison. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have succeeded from the cases of thousands of patients who in the last stages of the above named diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest curse to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, insanity, and many other diseases which add to a general misfortune. A personal or correspondence cure is effected by one of the most eminent physicians in the country. Medicines sent to any part of the United States or Europe. Communications and letters must contain a description of the case, with all symptoms, and how long standing, and the exact age of patient. Directions will be returned by mail or express, securely packed from observation, and no exposure of name or business. Medicines can be sent by express to all parts of the country, with full directions for use. Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Below we publish the testimonials of three of the sufferers from the plague of diseases, who have been cured through the skill and unparalleled success of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, in the treatment of Private Diseases. Their statements are made voluntarily, and in the most grateful spirit, and are sworn to before a Notary Public. The names of the parties given in full can be obtained by addressing DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco. The statements published are but a few of the many hundreds of cases which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care
